Thriving Together: Atlanta Women Take the Stage

"It is essential that we support organizations which propel and uplift women in our communities." -- Reina Jones AVP, Community Development, Delta Community Credit Union

This popular luncheon joins Atlanta business leaders with performing artists for informative, lively dialogue, great networking, a gourmet lunch, and a dynamic silent auction. Panelists discuss relevant issues in the arts, philanthropy, and economic development in Atlanta.

Be a powerful and passionate supporter of women's voices this year!

“Alston & Bird has been a long-time sponsor of Synchronicity's Women in the Arts & Business Luncheon because it is a wonderful opportunity to engage with current clients and network with potential clients who are interested in Atlanta's arts community. The event also provides a meaningful out-of-office experience for our attorneys to be inspired to contribute further to the community around us.”

– Elizabeth Clark Associate, Alston & Bird

About Us

Synchronicity Theatre uplifts the voices of women and girls and builds community through theatre.

Each year we produce five mainstage productions in our Bold Voices and Family Series. We send our New Stages tour around the Southeast. Our Stripped Bare arts incubator project supports the growth of new works by emerging artists. In our education program, Playmaking for Girls uplifts and empowers girls from both group homes and the refugee community, while Playmaking for Kids inspires the imaginations of children ages 4 - 14 at schools across the metro area. Our Production Boot Camp is transforming the technical workforce across the entire theatre community. During each show, we partner with local organizations to engage audiences beyond the stage. We bring issues raised in our shows to panels, exhibits, and workshops. We also spark dialogue through post-show chats.

THEY CAN'T STOP TALKING ABOUT US.

Eight recent Suzi Bass wins for our shows and Best Theatre - Audience Choice Award; the Community Engagement Award from the American Society for Theatre Research; named one of the 'Eight Top-Notch Children's Theatres in Atlanta' by Atlanta Parent Magazine and one of the '10 Best Live Theatre Venues' by BestThingsGA; received the International Center for Women Playwrights 50/50 Applause Award for five years and counting; we are a member of the new Bloomberg Philanthropies Arts Innovation Management cohort; and one of only two organizations to receive the prestigious 2018 Managing for Excellence Award from the Community Foundation for Greater Atlanta.
